The Fun Never Stops 😊

Can you believe it? It's already the end of 1st Quarter! Time flies when you are having fun. Speaking of fun, The "Fun & Games" committee (あそび係) has been waiting a long time to spread more joy in the class. One rainy day last week during snack time, they had their chance. Everybody, get your buzzers ready. It's QUIZ TIME!

Rainy days can be fun, too! 😊

Keeping on schedule

This quarter, it hasn't always been easy keeping to a schedule. A new environment. New teachers. A new system! Every day moves fast. That's why a big thanks to all the class leaders doing their best to keep Mercury orbiting.

We can sit properly!

Do you like sitting still? Probably not...especially when you are a grade 1 student. However, recently you are trying to sit quickly, quietly, and properly to start P.E. class. Great! It's not only good for our posture, but it's also important in times of emergency.

Of course, the sooner we sit properly, the sooner we can start class, too! We only have P.E. 3 times a week, so let's make the most of our time.

Did you bring food for the party?

The answer 'Yes,' you did! Everyone tried their best to make their most delicious food for the party-what a great way to celebrate the end of the 1st Quarter. Let's have a party! We had music, decorations, visitors, and best of all, really yummy-looking food! We didn't have a lot of time to prepare, but we did it. Mr. Yokofuji came right on time and had a great experience. He even brought some food of his own to share. What a great day!

Keep on reading!

Just 15 minutes a day! So many students are continuously listening, reading, and recording  the books they read in RAZ- Plus.

Excellent!

I'm also sure many of you have seen the lovely display Ms. Konomi and Mr. Yoshiga put up outside the Marco Polo room. Mr. Eric Carle, a famous children's book author passed away recently. His books have inspired children from all around the world for many years. Let's say thank you by reading a book or two. His books are in Japanese, too. Please have a look! I'm sure you will enjoy reading them.

End of Quarter

It was a fast and fun three months. Lots of growth. Lots of laughs. Lots of learning. Mercury and Neptune are reaching for the stars!

A new quarter will start in July, and I am confident that we will keep reaching higher. Let's be the best together!
