Phonics Time... Writing and Reading time!

These are some scenes during our phonics day. Students are busy writing letters, words, and phrases. Songs and short videos are an integral part of the lesson. Most of the time, before singing, guided reading has to be done before doing it. Moreover, on watching short videos related to the topic of the day, there are many skills that the students learn, such as listening, watching with comprehension, guided reading, and having fun.

More activities are coming in the future on learning phonics, especially on reading and listening with comprehension. Definitely, writing will always be a part of the lesson. (Lou)
