Growing Together

Autumn Flowers

September has begun! It is a new month with new beginnings. What better way to start the month off right than by planting some seeds. Do you remember which seeds you planted this week? During English life studies class, you planted broccoli and radishes. Didn't they sprout quickly?! We also planted one more type of seed. Do you remember which one? Take a look at the picture below. Can you guess the correct picture?

Our Kindness Tree

Flowers are beautiful, but trees...they are terrific. Especially when they sprout kindness like the one we made. I look forward to watching the leaves of love bloom and blossom for the rest of the year.

Oh how you've grown!

Just like the flowers and the trees, you too are growing taller and kinder than ever before. Keep on growing Mercury! You are getting bigger and better every day.
