

SOLAN HARMONY

English

The MORE
you REFLECT the MORE
you LEARN

After the Singapore Exchange Project, students had a chance to reflect on their experience. They spoke about things such as planning the event, communicating with others, and things they would do differently if there were another project like this. It was fantastic to see such deep thinking and motivation!

My day with Singapore students

At the end of the event, we exchanged gifts with the Singapore students. I received a cute file and pen from a student named "Yuetong". I interacted with her throughout the day.

And we became close. I gifted her a SOLAN towel, and she seemed very happy. After, she gave me a letter! I knew I had a new friend.

with students

er was her. I can keep with her! I at with her. happy and ted.

smart smile and perfect english grammar. I'm so glad I got to meet her.

Let's Cook!

This week, students also had a lot of fun in home economics. They worked together in teams to cook a delicious stir fry. Each team came up with their own way of cutting and frying. Afterwards, they had the chance to taste their masterpiece.
