Working Independently

It's been a quieter week here at SOLAN with many of our students and teachers away. This was a real test of your independence, and I have to say, I was incredibly impressed with how responsible and mature everyone was. You all really stepped up to the challenge.

To everyone who was here this week, and especially to the students who took the lead in classes, a huge thank you for your amazing efforts! It was fantastic to see you take such initiative.

Thank you also for all of you who took this opportunity to speak more English!

For those of you who were on the trip to Kushiro High School, I hope you have a wonderful and restful weekend. I'm looking forward to hearing all about your experiences when we see you back next week.

We will value "Purpose" and "Ownership" for you
