One Week to Go!

This is the final English newsletter for this year! In just one more week, you will be moving up to the 8th grade. It feels like this year has gone past very quickly, but thinking back, you have all achieved and changed a lot.

When this year started, I didn't really know any of you. Of course, I had seen you around school, but it has been great getting to know you all properly. There are a lot of different personalities in this class, but I have been continually impressed by your independence and maturity. You have shown great teamwork again and again, from small things like getting lunch ready quickly every day, to planning big events like the SOLAN Festa together.

One of the things that made me the most proud this year was seeing you engage with the younger students. Watching you help the Grade 1 students prepare for Inquiry was great to see!

I am very happy with the effort you have all put into English this year, and I think each of you has shown a lot of progress. As you become 8th graders, my biggest piece of advice is to make the most of the unique experiences SOLAN can offer, like the chance to study abroad and the chance to talk to lots of English teachers from different countries.

There is only one more week left. Please use this time to focus on preparing for your final Inquiry presentations. It is an important week, so let's make sure we give it our best!

We will value "Purpose" and "Ownership" for you
