Playing Games & Building Worlds

Time is flying, and our G5 students have kicked off Quarter 2 with so much energy!

Following up on our major habitat study, everyone chose a special animal to research. Students looked up sizes, diets, and even checked the IUCN Red List to see how endangered their animals are. Using this data, they designed informative posters and turned them into a brilliant classroom card game! It was a fantastic, hands-on way to practice English by comparing which animals are bigger, faster, or more at risk.

Now, the project is entering an exciting digital phase! Using the Rooms app, students are building interactive digital habitats, thinking carefully about what their animals need to survive. We can't wait to share their completed digital worlds with you!

Until next time, thank you for your amazing support and let's Strive for Five!
