Let's practice 'past tense'!

Let's practice 'past tense'!

Hello everyone! It has been nice seeing the students return from the long summer vacation. They have been trying their best in school since they returned, and the classrooms have been lively. In English class, they have been working on using the past tense to describe events. Students made posters about what they did during summer vacation and tried writing using the past tense grammar that they learned. The students had fun reflecting on their summer vacation and sharing what they did with their classmates! Using the past tense can be confusing sometimes, but students have been making an effort to use it recently in and outside of class. Keep up the good work, everyone! I have shared some of the students' posters. They did a great job writing! Thank you for reading!
